

AI for Artists

Wednesday, July 22, 2026

12 - 1 PM on Zoom

This 1-hour virtual session introduces foundational AI concepts in a clear, accessible format designed for nonprofit professionals and practicing artists. It covers key terminology, relevant tools, and the history of technology's role in art.

Participants will gain practical knowledge about how AI is shaping creative industries, along with guidance on responsible use, ethics, and emerging opportunities. The session is tailored for the Max M. & Marjorie S. Fisher Foundation's Grant Partners in the Arts & Culture space.

To RSVP for this event, please email Katie Purcell at katie@mmfisher.org

Caitlen Macias is the Founder & CEO of BotQueen, dedicated to helping small businesses, nonprofits, and executives harness AI for growth and impact. With over a decade of experience in the nonprofit sector at the intersection of strategy and innovation, Caitlen works collaboratively with clients to assess, train, and empower their staff to use tech tools. Caitlen is a graduate of William and Mary and Columbia University. She is an Executive Fellow with the National Privacy Council and on the Advisory Council for PBSC AI Curriculum. She believes in leveraging AI for good and making tech accessible to all.