This project builds on the festival's previous success and incorporates changes and improvements to enrich the cultural and tourism experience. The Miami World Theatre Day Festival, organized by Ruta Teatral Miami, is scheduled for the week of March 27, 2024. This festival, now in its 4th year, celebrates cultural diversity and artistic excellence through theatrical performances and events. Its primary purpose is to provide a platform for independent local and international theater artists while promoting inclusivity, artistic innovation, and community engagement. The festival will take place at several iconic venues in Miami-Dade County, including BayFront Park (301 North Biscayne Boulevard, Miami, Florida 33132), MicroTheatre Miami (Maurice A. Ferré Park, 1075 Biscayne Blvd, Miami, FL, 33132), and Live Arts Miami (Miami Dade College Freedom Tower, Sixth Floor, 600 Biscayne Boulevard, Miami, FL 33132).

The Miami World Theatre Day Festival aims to engage a diverse array of audiences, including theater enthusiasts, families, tourists, and the local community. By offering a variety of performances and activities, the festival caters to people of all ages and backgrounds, making it an inclusive and dynamic cultural experience. For the festival's convenience, a number of hotel rooms have been booked/blocked to accommodate the artists, staff, and potentially visiting attendees. These arrangements ensure that the festival's participants and visitors have comfortable lodging options.

It involves a comprehensive marketing plan that combines traditional advertising, social media outreach, partnerships, and collaborations with local and international media outlets to promote the festival and attract diverse audiences. Milestones will be tracked to assess progress throughout the project's duration. The Miami World Theatre Day Festival's marketing strategy encompasses a multifaceted approach that includes traditional advertising, social media outreach, influencer partnerships, and collaborations with local and international media outlets. These efforts aim to create widespread awareness and engagement among potential attendees.

In addition to marketing, the festival places a strong emphasis on audience development. This involves active engagement with local schools, community groups, and cultural organizations to foster a sense of community participation and enthusiasm for the festival.

Due to its unique and diverse programming, appealing to a broad range of interests, the project is anticipated to generate significant press coverage. The festival's inclusive and international focus further enhances its potential to attract visitors from outside the local community, positioning it as a cultural and tourism attraction in Miami-Dade County.

The festival's funding also includes support from Miami Downtown and the DAN Grant, organizations committed to enhancing the cultural landscape of Miami-Dade County.

The Miami World Theatre Day Festival is not merely a showcase of artistic talent; it's a cultural extravaganza that promotes inclusivity and artistic excellence. The festival celebrates Hispanic-speaking artists, members of the LGBTQ+ community, and women, fostering an inclusive and dynamic cultural experience in the heart of Miami. This cultural richness naturally attracts both local and international audiences, contributing to Miami's status as a vibrant cultural destination. Since its last iteration, the festival has evolved to include a broader range of performances, making it more attractive to diverse audiences and enhancing its tourism potential. TDC funding plays a crucial role in enhancing the project's tourism appeal. It enables expanded marketing efforts, international promotion, and an improved visitor experience. It allows for a wider range of performances, making Miami-Dade County a premier cultural destination for both local and global tourists.

Marketing Details:

1. Describe your marketing strategy in as much detail as possible. Include specifics regarding types of media, advertising frequency and target markets/demographics. What specific efforts will be made to generate tourism and audience development (i.e. program content, site, special incentives, etc)? Include a detailed account of promotional efforts used (i.e. banners, post cards, radio and tv spots, etc).

Our detailed marketing strategy integrates both traditional and digital methods to reach a broad audience. We prioritize accessibility and collaboration, striving to enhance the festival's appeal while maximizing its impact on tourism and audience development. Through targeted marketing and diversified media channels, we aim to increase visibility and attendance, ultimately elevating the festival's tourism impact. Our target markets encompass the local community, tourists, students, cultural enthusiasts, and the LGBTQ+ community. By crafting content and promotional efforts that resonate with these diverse groups, we ensure that our festival reaches the widest audience possible. We curate a diverse range of performances, ensuring that our program appeals to a broad spectrum of interests and backgrounds. To encourage participation and engagement, we host interactive activities, workshops, and discussions. By offering several free events, we actively break down financial barriers and invite individuals to explore the festival without reservations, we harness the power of social media platforms, including Facebook, Instagram, and TikTok. These channels serve as a direct line of communication with our audience, allowing us to share engaging content, artist highlights, and behind-the-scenes glimpses. Our website acts as the central hub of festival information, providing a user-friendly interface for attendees to explore event details and access an online ticketing system. Email marketing is a critical tool in our digital toolkit, enabling us to regularly connect with our subscribers and keep them updated on festival news, exclusive promotions, and important information. Traditional marketing methods remain relevant in our strategy. We collaborate with local print media, run advertisements in newspapers and magazines, and strategically place radio and TV spots on regional stations to reach local audiences effectively. Additionally, we create physical promotional materials like banners and postcards, which are distributed at strategic locations such as cultural centers, universities, and art galleries, allowing us to reach potential attendees offline.

"Facebook Live Events" will be used to broadcast artist and producer interviews, rehearsals, and video announcements. "Instagram Live" will broadcast interviews with participating artists and producers

- The website (www.rutatreatralmiami.com/) was reconditioned to provide information to everyone. It will reveal the Theatrical Route for World Theater Day Miami 2023, including participating theaters and venues and performance times. Participants can obtain event tickets on the website that connects to all participating theaters, theater

| companies and presenting companies to promote their season of events.   |
| - SMS messages using the Ruta Teatral mailing list to distribute information about the event.   |
| 2. Identify specific radio and/or television stations committed as media sponsors to covering this event. This section is specific to radio and television only. NOTE: Media Sponsorship is advertising that seeks to establish a deeper association and integration between an advertiser and a publisher, often involving coordination beyond-the-banner placements, as the whole point is to establish a more unique advertising apportunity than afforded by typical rotating advertisements. They may include several fixed ad placements, advertorials, co-branded content sections, or anything the advertiser and publisher can agree on. Sponsorships add the elements of brand marketing. |
| Telemundo, Univision radio and EVTV will be official media sponsors for the second edition of World Theater Day   |
| Miami 2023. These outlets will be committed to working with Ruta Teatral to celebrate World Theater Day Miami   |
| 2024 because it promotes theatre, diversity and inclusion. These media will support the work of Ruta Teatral in the   |
| production of this new festival aimed at promoting the development of the performing arts in South Florida based  |
| on being the official media sponsors of WTDM 2024. These media will invite the communities to be part of it,  |
| participate and support the festival.   |

3. Enter the estimated number of people you hope to reach through electronic media (e.g. broadcast of event over radio or television, web site, social media). This information must be consistent with the information reported in the Marketing Detail:

3a. How was the above estimate determined?

Ruta Teatral is using a conservative estimate of the number of people reached through electronic media using Telemundo, Univision, evtv and the current power of social media as the media sponsor for World Theater Day 2024. Only Telemundo reaches the 63 million Hispanic population in the US, which represents 19% of the total US population, and in Miami-Dade County, Hispanics represent 69% of the population. It makes sense for Ruta Teatral to promote the use of Telemundo, Univision and other media to reach Hispanics locally and internationally.

Each year during the festival, we reserve and fulfill our commitment requested by the TDC by providing lodging for our artists in city hotels.

These accommodations not only ensure the comfort and convenience of our international guests but also serve as a testament to our commitment to strengthening Miami's position as a global cultural hub. By partnering with these local hotels, we not only extend our reach to potential attendees but also contribute to the overall visitor experience. The opportunity to experience the festival and explore Miami is enhanced by the availability of lodging in close proximity to festival venues.
